

LOCAL BREVITIES.

A fine rain Monday night. Judge Russell has commenced work on his lake.

Cooler weather, with a fine breeze from the north. The new switch at the Ironton depot is now completed.

Ore is again being shipped from the mines of the Arcadia Mining Company.

The K. of H. Ball tomorrow night will be a grand success in every particular.

A new vein of iron ore has been developed in the Shut-In. It is thought to be a valuable discovery.

Joseph Schneider and Lena Wolf were "made one" by Judge Dinger last Saturday evening. All of the Valley.

How do you like our new jacket? It is made of all-wool truck, yard wide, and warranted to neither rip, ravel nor tear.

A new roof has been put on the jail and the jailor's residence, and a boss fence around the latter. Louis Miller did the job.

Mr. E. Galutia, of Ironton, lost a cow last Wednesday. She was run over by the cars. Judge Dinger had a similar loss a few days since.

Judge Dinger united in the bonds of holy matrimony, at his office last Thursday, Mr. Wm. Belcher to Mrs. Elizabeth Whitel—all of Iron county.

The Knights of Honor are making great preparations for their picnic at Goulding's Park Thursday. Let everybody turn out and enjoy a day socially together.

Persons who have received invitations to the K. of H. Ball will find tickets for sale at the Post Office, or at the general ticket office in the Academy of Music building.

Dr. Goulding, who has been quite unwell, came out Monday, looking a little the worse for his illness. He has the advantage of the balance of us on doctor's bills, however.

There will be good speaking by Hon. Jay L. Torrey, of St. Louis, at the picnic tomorrow (Thursday) at 11 A. M. Those failing to attend will miss a great treat, for a fact.

M. B. Tetwiler has some very fine dwarf pears, samples of which we have tested. They are large—some of them eleven inches in circumference—mellow, and toothsome.

A fruitful season is a good thing for the tinsmith. J. N. Bishop has sold, so far, this summer, over three hundred dozen fruit cans, and the demand is by no means abated.

The Reporter of the Knights of Honor has received letters from several lodges, stating that quite a number of their members will be in attendance at the picnic on the 31st inst.

The flour trade is brisk. The Ironton Mill Co. is running brakes off, and has about all it can attend to. Wheat is coming in rapidly, and the mill has about 3,000 bushels in its bin.

Mr. Begley sold his fine grey horse to a St. Louis drummer last week for $110. John's sole dependence is now on his two "moosies"—reinforced by Grandhomme's lately purchased ponies.

A new time-table for the railroad went into effect last Sunday. The most important change was in the time of the passenger trains. Nos. 1 and 4 meet at Arcadia now; heretofore they passed at Tip-Top.

P. Garrier, Esq., has let the contract for putting up a building on the southern half of the lot now occupied in part by his store. It will be two stories high, and 22x38 feet in dimensions. Baldwin Bros. are the contractors.

Silas Pannebacker, of Marble Creek, ran off with Dorothy Sutton last Saturday, and the twins are now enjoying new fields and pastures green in Illinois. The escape does not damage the reputation of either party.

Bro. Holton left for the Charleston fruit region last Saturday, on the hunt for a new lot of melons and cantaloupes. He will be back in a day or two, and then our people can depend on getting a good article for little money.

The Fredericktown Plaindealer has changed hands—Mr. Collier retiring, and O. K. Clardy, Esq., taking his place. We trust, however, that friend Shelby will remain. The Plaindealer is a good paper, and we wish it success politically and financially.

The sidewalks on Main street, while better than those of other towns in Southwest Missouri, are somewhat dilapidated. New curbing is needed in many instances, and we are patiently awaiting a start in the right direction by some energetic, public spirited citizen.

Mrs. Allison, of Arcadia, last Saturday, sent us the finest peaches we ever saw. Three peaches weighed one and a half pounds, and the largest measured a foot in circumference. They were clingstones, and the meat red to the centre. She will please accept our thanks for her nice present.

W. W. Heywood, who lives four miles south of town, is the possessor of a cow and her last calf, both of which are giving milk. The calf was born sixteen months ago, and had her first calf a month since. The old cow has been milked every day since becoming "fresh," and her calf is now contributing greatly to the products of the dairy. Who can furnish us a similar instance?

Miss Marie Rutschman brought us last Saturday a basket containing six pears, and they were large enough to fill the basket, too. We took them home, and now they are stored away in the form of preserves to feed the hungry editor and his family when the snow and ice shall cover the ground and the tree whereon they grew. But we doubt if they will be half so sweet as the one who brought them to us.

Mr. Welch, Singer Machine Agent at this place, started from the depot yesterday morning with a big load of machines, intending to haul them down to his office. They were piled high on the wagon, and one of them slipped forward on to the bay mare drawing the vehicle. Mr. W. grabbed her by the head so that she could not run, but she stood there and kicked the shafts into kindling wood. None of the machines were damaged.

Wm. Steffens, of the Pilot Knob Hotel, will give a Grand Ball and Supper on the evening of the 11th of September. He is already on the war-path after the various accessories, and will spare no pains to make the ball all that it should be. The best music that can be obtained will be on hand, and the dancers will have a specially good time, while the supper will be all that one could wish. Invitations will be issued in due time. Admission per couple, $1.50.

A heavy thunderstorm shook up this section last Wednesday afternoon, and bolts were hurled at various points in the Valley. One of them struck Wm. A. Fletcher's barn in Arcadia, damaging it considerably. Luckily there was no light inflammable material in the barn, and no conflagration followed. One of the cedar posts supporting the superstructure was literally rendered into fine kindling wood. Another bolt struck in Bumgarner's field, east of Ironton, but did no damage.

The Arcadia Accommodation ran off the track at Klummswick last Saturday night, and in consequence was two hours late reaching its destination. The run-off was occasioned by a misplaced switch. It was probably a very fortunate accident. A freight train bound north came down from Tip-Top the same evening at break-neck speed, and got beyond control. It could not be stopped at Arcadia, but ran clear over the bridge and half-way up the heavy grade east of Ironton, before it was brought to a stand-still. As it was on the regular time of the Accommodation, if that train had been in its place, a smashup must have resulted.

Last Friday night, when all honest folks were abed and asleep, an occupant of the Hill building, south of the court house square, was awakened by a noise at one of the windows. He got out of bed at once and gave the alarm, when the would-be burglar decamped. On examination one of the window sashes was found raised sufficiently to admit an ordinary sized person, and no doubt if the alarm had not been so promptly given, a robbery would have been committed. There are many strangers in the Valley these days, and we think a night-watch ought to be instituted. Let our business men "chip in" for the purpose and they will sleep more soundly and safely.

The Arcadia College will open next Monday, Sept. 4th, and is prepared to accommodate a great many pupils. This is fast becoming one of the largest educational institutions south of St. Louis; its graduates are scattered all over Missouri, which is the best evidence of its thoroughness of instruction in the past and the best guarantee of its promises of the future; its teachers can not be surpassed; the buildings and grounds are delightfully situated in a beautiful location—all of which makes it to the interest of all parents to try its merits before sending their children from home. Let all give the Sisters a helping hand, and unite in making the approaching session, if possible, more of a success than any former one.

Last Wednesday the authorities received a telegram asking them to look for a boy thirteen years of age, who had run off from his mother who was temporarily at Hot Springs. Marshal Patton kept his weather eye clear, and sure enough he spied two white boys and a darkey in a freight car as strain rolled into the depot the same day. After collaring the boys, and charging one of them with being from home without leave, the boy admitted the fact. His father, who lives in Louisiana, Mo., was telegraphed at once, and came on Thursday. It was his boy, sure enough, and he took him home with him. The other boys, no doubt, were runaways, too, but though the Marshal telegraphed to different places in regard to them, he could hear nothing; so he let them go, and they are by this time, we suppose, far on their way to the plains to "fight injuns."

Marshal Patton last week arrested a very drunk man on the streets, and committed him to jail, that he might cool off safely, in seclusion from the wiles of the outer world. The prisoner claimed to have just received $1700 pension money, and displayed a few $1 bills wrapped around a big roll of newspaper. The officers, being unacquainted with him, thought there might be some truth in his story, and proceeded to hunt up two men who had been seen in his company a short time previous to his arrest. Subsequent developments, however, showed that the pension story was a fraud, that the prisoner had told the same story in another town several weeks before, and that he had never received any pension and was not entitled to any. The next morning he was taken before Judge Dinger and made to pay for his fun. When drunk he was about the limberest individual we ever saw.

The woods are full of young turkeys, and as the game-law does not permit their killing until after the 15th of September, they are as yet unmolested by human hunters. But the law has no terrors for four-footed "varmints," and the growing fowls have to fight for existence notwithstanding the protection afforded them by our legislators. The other day, as one of Ironton's Nimrods was paroling Shepherd Mountain in search of squirrels—which, by the way, are not plentiful this year—he ran across a gang of twenty or thirty young turkeys, attended by an old hen and gobbler. All were in a terrible stew and flutter, the cause of which was directly explained. Just after they had disappeared in the undergrowth, a big red fox came trotting along in pursuit of them. This was too much for the patience of the Nimrod; if he couldn't take in the game, he was determined Mr. Fox should not; so he up and blazed away, and Reynard fell, a fitting end to a marauding career.

Personal.

Mr. Watt Imboden, of Piedmont, was in town last Saturday.

Mr. Henry Tetley, of Farmington, was in town one day last week.

Mr. Jim Peek is at present down in the arid regions of Arkansas.

Mr. C. A. Butts, of Des Arc, was in town last Saturday on business.

Mr. F. H. Delano spent several days of last week here with his relative.

Mr. A. H. Shy, Circuit Clerk of Reynolds county, was in town Monday.

Miss Charley Robinson, of Kaolin, this county, was in Ironton Tuesday.

Col. Jas. Lindsay, of St. Louis, has been in Ironton for several days this week.

Messrs. A. Lopez and Wm. A. Butts, of Piedmont, spent Sunday in Ironton.

Mr. Gayley, of St. Louis, interested in the Arcadia manganese mines, was in Ironton last Thursday.

Mr. Abington, after spending a week here with his relatives, returned Monday morning to St. Louis.

Miss Myra Newman, of St. Louis, spent a few days in Ironton last week visiting her friend Miss Bakewell.

Miss Rosa Hughes left on Sunday for Piedmont to visit Mrs. Etta Toney. She will return Thursday.

Mr. J. J. Gilmore was in town again Saturday, and his family returned with him Sunday to their home in St. Louis.

Miss Lou E. Gideon leaves Sunday for Shiloh, Butler county, where she is engaged to teach a four-months' school.

Master Harry B. Ake on Monday arrived home from Noble, Arkansas, well satisfied with that State—satisfied not to return.

Mrs. John Zwart and two children, after a pleasant visit of several weeks to the family of Capt. B. Zwart, have returned to St. Louis.

Miss Hattie Crumb, of Bloomfield, who has been visiting her brother, Mr. Geo. H. Crumb, of this place, left Tuesday for West Plains, where she will spend the winter teaching music.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carter came down from St. Louis last Saturday. Mr. Carter left on Tuesday, but his wife will remain here several days visiting the family of Capt. C. P. Beck.

Mr. George Lopez spent the whole of last week in St. Louis negotiating for a big purchase, consisting of over $10,000 worth of seasonable clothing. You can expect big bargains.

Thirty-five cent Sheet Music at Chambers' Book Store at 5 cents a copy.

Pilot Knob Pennings.

YOUR itemizer prays you to excuse him for neglect.

Mrs. W. G. THOMAS has returned after a long visit at Iron Mountain and elsewhere. PUBLIC SCHOOL will begin here next Monday, September 4th. Parents will please take notice.

MR. JULIUS CESAR KLUG has sold his stock of drugs to Dr. G. W. Farrar, Jr., and will go in search of another and better location.

THE School Board at this place proposes to re-seat a portion of the school building with new patent folding seats. This will render the school much more comfortable.

THE German school at this place closed last Monday; Mr. Gockel, the teacher, having so far recovered from his lameness as to be able to return to the work of his calling. MISS AUGUSTA KATHIS went to Cape Girardeau last week to begin a year's school at the State Normal. Miss Kathis is an exceptional student, and will doubtless bring home laurels of success.

THE new lodge of A. O. U. W. at this place has been organized five weeks, and has during that time initiated six new members and taken one in by card, giving the lodge a membership of twenty-two.

PROF. VANDIVER, Principal of the Caledonia College, was at this place and Ironton, last week, looking up the interest of his school. We understand that he secured a few pupils at the latter place.

THE membership of the Lutheran Church at this place all went to Iron Mountain Sunday to attend some form of union service there; hence about all the spare vehicles at this place and Ironton were taken.

A VERY liberal amount of improvement is going on in our town at this time. The Company, we are told, will build fifty new houses. Among private improvements we notice several new house roofs, Mr. Schacht's continued kitchen, Mr. Killalee's new stable, a new fence and wood house at the school house, and a new ice-house at Val. Effinger's.

School children, if you buy 5 cents worth of anything at the Book Store, you will get a Slate-pencil Sharpener for a present.

The trouble in the Town Board of Pilot Knob has been reverted to in this paper. The matter was taken before Judge Thomas, who, a few days since, after recounting the matters contained in the petition for a writ of quo warranto, rendered the following:

I, Judge as aforesaid, being willing that due and speedy justice be done to said Joseph H. Thompson and Frederick Colhage, and to said Town and the inhabitants thereof, command you, as Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Town of Pilot Knob, Iron county, Missouri, to forthwith order an election to be held in said Town, at the usual place of voting therein, for the purpose of electing three Trustees for said Town, to fill the aforesaid vacancies therein, giving at least ten days notice thereof, or show cause to the contrary on the first day of the next term of the circuit court of Iron county, Missouri, to be held at the courthouse in Ironton, Iron county, Missouri on the fourth Monday of October next, and that you certify full and perfect obedience to, and due execution of, this writ, to the Judge of said Court, on the day aforesaid. Herein fail not at your peril, and have you then and there this writ.

Witness, my hand in Chambers in the City of De Soto, Jefferson county, Missouri, this 5th day of August, 1882.

JOHN L. THOMAS, Judge 26th Judicial Circuit of Missouri.

The Sunday-School Convention.

The Convention for the Nineteenth District, for the State of Missouri, met in the M. E. Church in Fredericktown, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 22 and 23. The election of officers resulted in the choice of Rev. E. P. Keach, E. H. Day, and Miss Marcia Marvin as President, Secretary, and Treasurer, respectively. Rev. A. W. Wright and Rev. E. P. Keach were chosen to represent the District at the State Convention. The absence of all unpleasant sectarian feeling rendered the occasion a most enjoyable one.

We here quote some of the good things said: "Would the most thoughtless of us entrust a delicate vase, a fine picture, to careless or untalented hands? Yet how many Christian parents absent themselves habitually from Sabbath-school and entrust infinitely dearer objects to comparative strangers." "God has not given you souls to turn their education over to a stranger." "Robert Raikes did not originate Sabbath-schools. They existed thousands of years before in every God-fearing household. He did, however, originate the idea of instructing outcasts on the Sabbath." "The Sunday-school is not for children alone, but for families." "Teaching destitute children is the surest means of reaching irreligious parents." "The Sunday-school has a two-fold function: defensive and aggressive; to hold and keep the Church's children, and to enlarge her bounds; to carry Gospel light into darkness." "Let us see that we study the Bible and not lesson leaves." "The best method of teaching is the Saviour's; the illustrative, the object lesson." "That any one will do for the teacher of the infant class is a sad mistake. Infant classes require the highest order of talent." "The best way to get our half-grown boys and young men into our Sabbath-schools is to be there ourselves and to give them something to do there." "The object of the Sabbath-school is not to amuse or entertain its members, but it is the salvation of immortal souls; hence, every lesson should teach the way of life."

The following resolution was adopted: Resolved, That the thanks of the Convention be tendered to the Methodist congregation for the use of their house of worship, to the people of Fredericktown for their hospitality, and to the choir for music.

Among those present were Rev. W. M. Shelton, Dr. R. Watson, Rev. V. T. Settle, J. Perry Johnson, J. W. Hill, E. H. Day, Dr. Wm. Nifong, and Prof. Gass, of Fredericktown; Rev. E. P. Keach, of Whitewater; Rev. W. Beal, of Jackson; Rev. B. W. Crow and Mrs. S. A. Murphy, of Marble Hill; Rev. J. A. Creighton, of Farmington; Rev. A. W. Wright, N. C. Yall and wife, Mrs. M. J. Moser, Miss Emma Griffith, Miss Sarah Russell, C. S. Russell and wife, and Miss Hattie Wright, of Ironton.
